Steve,

A couple follow up items before you head out:

- Have you had a chance to speak [REDACTED]?

- We have been diving into the search for someone to lead an ad sales team and surfacing some good folks. We are researching Google to see who's there and learn what we can about their backgrounds, but are not directly calling them directly given the agreement you & Sergey struck not to recruit from one another. We are tapping into the other companies first to avoid having to go there. You agree with that approach?

Dani
